Welcome from the Chancellor

Welcome to campus for Parent & Family Weekend 2018! The academic year is well underway, and we are over halfway through the fall semester. Students have been diligently working on their coursework and other activities, and their energy and passion inspires all of us.

Parent & Family Weekend is a great time for us to share our community with you, our families. Our student organizations have been busy planning many interesting and diverse programs and events. We hope you will interact with the people and places that have become so important to your student.

Perhaps you would like to cheer on our student athletes at one of the many scheduled home games this weekend; or sit in on a course taught by one of our internationally recognized faculty members; or attend the Performing Arts Department's presentation of The Rocky Horror Show at the Edison Theatre.

It is great to have you here with us this weekend, and I hope you take advantage of the wide range of activities to do and see on our campus. I wish you all the best for an exciting and rewarding visit.

Sincerely yours,

Chancellor Mark S. Wrighton

Welcome from the First Year Center

We are thrilled to welcome you to Washington University's Parent & Family Weekend! We look forward to hosting you on campus and we know your student is excited to see you and show you around their new home. Over the next couple of days, you will see how full your students' lives have become and how they are getting connected to our Washington University community.

There are a variety of events planned for your time on campus. Feel free to visit a classroom, take one of our tours, learn about the various academic and experiential opportunities available, or hear our outstanding a cappella groups. We also understand this is a chance for you to spend time with your student and their friends so we have provided recommendations for a few of our favorite St. Louis restaurants and attractions in this publication.

To assist you with planning your weekend, we have marked the schedule with the following icons:

SIGNATURE EVENT

Signature Events are the highlights of Parent & Family Weekend you want to make sure you catch while you're on campus.

COMMON READING PROGRAM RECAP AND DISCUSSION FOR PARENTS AND FAMILIES

11:00AM-12:00PM

*Danforth University Center,
Goldberg Formal Lounge*

In Balzac and the Little Chinese Seamstress, Dai Sijie takes us into the painful experiences of re-education following the Cultural Revolution in China. The experience of reading and discussing this transformational novel allows us to put ourselves in the place of the characters in the book. One of the principle goals of the humanities is to cultivate empathy and immersing ourselves in the characters of the novel will give us a glimpse into the life of those who lived through the harsh world that the book describes. A faculty member who participated in Common Reading Program discussions will provide parents and families with an inside view of what transpired during the discussions with students. Please

★ PARENT & FAMILY WEEKEND WELCOME CENTER

8:30 AM-3:00 PM

Mallinckrodt Center, Lobby

Please stop by to pick up your registration packet including any pre-purchased tickets and a finalized schedule. Your student may check in for you.

★ CHANCELLOR WRIGHTON: THE UNDERGRADUATE EXPERIENCE

10:00PM-11:00AM

Brown Hall, room 100

Chancellor Mark S. Wrighton will discuss the educational experience of the University's undergraduate students.

★ SOULARD WALKING TOUR

10:00AM-1:00PM

Buses board in front of the Campus Bookstore on the south side of Mallinckrodt Hall.

Exploring the Soulard neighborhood offers almost two centuries of St. Louis history - from French landowners to the diverse immigrants of our Industrial Age to present-day rehabbers and urbanists. This walking tour follows the steps of thousands who have resided, worked, and worshipped in the preserved streetscapes. You will walk approximately two miles, with time to shop in Soulard Market, a Farmers Market operating since 1845. Tour time includes a round trip bus ride from WU campus to the site.

Requires a pre-paid ticket; may be purchased in advance at firstyear.wustl.edu*

NOT YOUR PARENT'S LIBRARY

10:30PM-11:00AM

Olin Library, Arc Presentation Room

Many of today's students keep the library in their pocket and access it with their cell phone. Journal articles appear at the click of a mouse. Some newspapers from the 1800s are now digitized and can be searched instantaneously. No longer is the library merely a repository for books. Come see the resources and services provided by the Library to today's Washington University students.

BRIEF TOUR OF THE OLIN LIBRARY

11:00PM-11:30AM

Olin Library, Level 1 Lobby

Tours will begin in the Olin Library Level 1 Lobby and visit the following: the Information Desk and other major service areas, instructional areas, individual and group study areas, the New Book and Pop Lit areas, the Newman Tower of Collections and Exploration, and the Thomas Gallery "Lasting Legacies" exhibit.

Live Supported.

The Residential Community Experience

Residential Life provides a variety of living environments that will make it easy for our students to live comfortably, study hard, and build friendships with their peers. Living supported in these includes our very own staff involvement in the residential experience. These individuals include but are not limited to:

- Residential College and Community Directors
- Resident Advisors
- Washington University Student Ambassadors
- Live-In Faculty Members
- Student Technology Coordinators
- Residential Peer Mentors
- Housekeeping Staff
- Maintenance Staff

Our communities also have social lounges, study rooms, and computer labs. Utilities included are cable TV, furniture, internet, central air and heat, and more!

Live with us and experience the whole package of college life.

FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY: STARTING A CONVERSATION WITH YOUR COLLEGE STUDENT

11:30AM-12:30PM

Danforth University Center, room 276

Now is a good time to start a conversation with your student about financial responsibility. For many students, the college experience provides an opportunity to be in charge of their finances for the first time. Conversations about budgeting, building good credit, and spending responsibly are fundamental to establishing sound financial habits. Amy Kweskin, Vice Chancellor for Finance and Chief Financial Officer, will speak about the important role parents play in helping their student develop financial responsibility. Amy will also be joined by a student who will share their perspective on these important topics.

UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH SYMPOSIUM

1:00PM-3:00PM

Olin Library

Learn about archaeological fieldwork in Bolivia; check out spin transfer in your electronic devices; and explore the role of the religious left in American politics! Stop by to hear talks and to view posters on these subjects and more. The Undergraduate Research Symposium showcases research conducted by nearly 200 WashU undergraduates in all disciplines. All welcome!

ST. LOUIS HIGHLIGHTS

We hope you have an opportunity to explore the St. Louis area through the various tours provided during Parent & Family Weekend. The city has so much to offer outside of campus – here are some of our favorite spots!

FOREST PARK

Located in the heart of St. Louis, Forest Park is one of the largest public parks in the country. Along with great running and walking trails, Forest Park contains many St. Louis attractions including the Saint Louis Art Museum, Missouri History Museum, Saint Louis Science Center, Saint Louis Zoo, and The Muny, which is the U.S.'s biggest outdoor theatre. If you have time, take your family to explore this city treasure.

Tip: Check out the Grand Basin near the Art Museum. It's a beautiful remnant from the 1904 World's Fair held in St. Louis.

CITY MUSEUM

Not your typical museum, City Museum is often characterized as a playground for adults. Formerly an abandoned shoe factory, you will find a five-story jungle gym, monster slide, rooftop Ferris wheel and so much more.

Tip: Check out the rooftop Ferris wheel and school bus!

DOWNTOWN ST. LOUIS

Of course you will need to visit the Gateway Arch, but there are many other things to do in Downtown St. Louis. Throughout downtown you will find Citygarden, the award-winning urban oasis with unique sculptures and Busch Stadium, home of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Tip: Directly across from the Arch is the Old Courthouse, site of the historic Dred Scott trials.

PLACES TO EAT

There's a good chance you will want to have lunch or dinner together as a family. Fortunately, St. Louis is known for its great food and dining. Below are a few favorites from students on the First Year Center Executive Board.

RESOURCES FOR FAMILIES

Ways to stay informed, involved, and connected.

THE FIRST YEAR CENTER

The First Year Center brings together people, programs, and resources to assist new students in their transition to Washington University. We recognize that family members often play a critical role in a student's transition to college life.

The First Year Center supports family members beyond the first year through hosting Parent & Family Weekend, coordinating the Family Ties publication, and serving as a resource for questions you may have. We recommend visiting our website firstyear.wustl.edu and click on the "Parent & Family Resources" tab at the top of the page.

FAMILY TIES

Looking for a way to stay connected with campus? Family Ties is a quarterly e-newsletter coordinated by The First Year Center that bridges the information gap between Washington University family members and life on campus. Family Ties focuses its content on aspects of student life occurring on campus at four major times of year. Sign up online at wustl.edu/parentinfo and view previous Family Ties issues at firstyear.wustl.edu.

PARENT PROGRAMS

Although geographically scattered, Washington University parents share a central value: they want their students to have the very best undergraduate experience possible. As a parent of a Washington University student, it is important you have opportunities to connect with fellow parents and with the University. Here are some of the ways parents can stay informed, involved, and connected:

- Alumni & Parents Admission Program (APAP): Parent members have the opportunity to host or attend receptions for admitted and enrolling students, represent the University at college fairs, and be resources for parents for recently admitted students.
- Career Center: Parents can become part of the WashU professional community by posting any co-op, internship, or full-time positions your organization may have available. You can also help by introducing Career Center staff to the Human Resources or recruiting team in your company.

RESOURCES FOR FAMILIES

Ways to stay informed, involved, and connected.

- Be a Hometown Ambassador: Many parent volunteers host events in their homes for alumni, parents, and friends of the University. Attending events in your hometown is also a wonderful way to connect with the University.
- The Parent Programs team works to serve the needs of all Washington University parents. If you are ever in need of assistance, please contact the Parent Programs Office at (800) 247-8517 or visit parentprograms.wustl.edu for more information.

PARENTS ANNUAL FUND

The Parents Annual Fund is a vital part of the Washington University Annual Fund. Annual gifts provide unrestricted resources that enhance the experience for every student.

WHY GIVE?

Gifts to the Parents Annual Fund directly support the school or college in which your student is enrolled or any other Annual Fund program that you choose. The Parents Annual Fund allows deans the flexibility to fund the top priorities of their respective school or college. Gifts are often earmarked for projects such as enhancing and maintaining technology or providing career development services for students.

William Greenleaf Eliot Society

Your gift of $1,000 or more to the Parents Annual Fund will qualify you for membership in the William Greenleaf Eliot Society. Eliot Society members are the leaders who help ensure Washington University's stature as one of the world's leading institutions of teaching and research. Eliot Society funds are used for student assistance programs, educational resources, scholarships and faculty development and recruitment. Membership in the Eliot Society comes with benefits exclusively for Eliot Society members.

How to Give?

ALUMNI AND PARENTS ADMISSION PROGRAM

Become an Admissions Volunteer

The Alumni and Parents Admission Program (APAP) is a group of dedicated Washington University alumni and parents who assist with the undergraduate admissions process in their communities.

APAP members help the University recruit, interview, enroll, and welcome talented students. Washington University parents are in a special position to communicate undergraduate student experiences, as well as what is to be gained from a WashU education. In addition, they help to personalize what might otherwise seem like a formal and form-laden process. Few people are better qualified to promote Washington University than parents of current students.

Parent members of APAP have an important perspective to share with prospective families as they consider Washington University. APAP parent members may host and attend receptions; staff college fairs; participate in Parent to Parent Calling, the Parents Resource List, and the International Resource List; and help to spread the word about WashU. APAP volunteers make a significant contribution to the University community while making connections with one another in cities all over the world.

For information about how to get involved with APAP or to join, please visit apap.wustl.edu, or contact us at (800 or 314) 935-4826 or apap@wustl.edu.
